THE HOTTEST NEW LOUNGE IN PITTSBURGH

It was a Nightwire party night in the burgh and we chose Villa – a new and exciting experience that represents all that Pittsburgh nightlife should be. Villa's two story venue is a tasteful blend of comfort and style. From the warm and inviting interior to the unique second floor outdoor patio, Villa offers an atmosphere that is comfortable and inviting from its huge outdoor rooftop patio to the large bar on the first level. Here at Villa they have a DJ every Thursday, Friday and Saturday so you can enjoy dance music upstairs. Or if you are in the mood to sit back and chill, they offer

"A new and exciting experience that represents all that Pittsburgh nightlife should be" softer more relaxing music on the first level. The crowd is a great mix of young and older professionals all blending together in perfect harmony with lots of space to mingle and socialize.

Owners Nick and Allya Curl have over 13 years of bar/restaurant/lounge experience and it definitely shows in their newest venture. From the moment you enter, you'll be welcomed by a friendly, fun-loving staff. Their décor is unpretentious, comfortable and inviting. It's simply simplistic elegance which will make you feel immediately at home. Whether you are on a date or out on a girls or guys night out you'll certainly fit in at Villa.

Villa offers great happy hour specials..

Villa is conveniently located in the heart of Pittsburgh's historic South Side at 19th and East Carson Street. Villa features two large bars, one of the cities hottest DJs, VIP and lounge seating, daily valet service and a decadent small plates menu that is sure to please. Look for our dining review of Villa in our August issue. You can also check them out on the web at www.villasouthside.com.

Bombay Food Market

An International Delight!

Bombay Food Market Owners - Didar Singh and his wife Manjit Kaur have recently relocated their market to Centre Avenue from their former location on Atwood Street in Oakland. Their brand new store is stocked daily with the freshest vegetables and fruits at exceptionally low prices!

“If you are looking for that hard to find international food item or you want to try some international delights, Bombay Food Market is definitely the smart choice.”

At Bombay Food Market you will find a huge selection of international foods and spices from around the world. Plus they carry a wide range of fresh and organic items at absolutely outstanding extremely low prices! Bombay Food Market also offers a large selection of high quality frozen foods, teas, rice, lentils, beans and flour (rice, wheat, chick pea, lentil and raga) as well as a large selection of dairy products. In addition to all these offerings, their shelves are stocked with a variety of hot, ready to eat fresh meals to go daily. We truly believe they have the best selection in the city.

The store is inviting, brightly lit, well stocked and exceptionally organized. Their frozen food section takes up the entire length of the store. Bombay Food Market definitely has something for everyone. We found their staff to be exceedingly friendly and helpful and even their customers were eager and willing to help answer any questions we had. We were truly amazed at the array of healthy items to choose from. Checking the labels we were pleased to find so many organic and natural ingredients with very low sodium in their food products. Their prices compared to other stores were very reasonable. If you are looking for that hard to find international food item or you want to try some international delights, Bombay Food Market is definitely the smart choice. From rice to spice or sweet treats – all you have to do is ask – Bombay Food Market has it all! Stop by and make sure you tell them your friends from Nightwire sent you!

Bombay Food Market is open daily from 11am till 9pm – you can also check them out at www.abombay.com.

THE BEST GYM IN THE BURGH

We spent a great deal of time searching for the perfect fitness center in Pittsburgh! What we found was one of Pittsburgh's best kept secrets - BodyXchange and Elite Sports Performance Training Center tucked away at 2319 Wharton Street, Pittsburgh, PA 15203. This Training Center is located in the heart of the South Side. The first thing we noticed was its location and parking lot (which we all know in South Side, parking is at a premium.) It is convenient and centrally located to just about everything. Only minutes from Downtown, Station Square, the Waterworks, and the South Side Football Complex. When you walk through the doors of the BodyXchange Training Center, the first thing you notice is that this is definitely not your average gym or chain fitness center. This Training Center is a veritable Noah's Ark of equipment and workout machines from old school to cutting edge state of the art. Not being familiar with these pieces of equipment or what they were used for, we knew we needed some help to decipher and navigate our way through this maze of equipment.

We spent time speaking with Michael Koyack, one of the co-owners and trainers at BodyXchange Training Center. He graciously took time out from training to give us a tour of his facility and discuss all it has to offer.

BodyXchange not only has a quantity of equipment but also a variety of equipment to meet each and every member's goals and needs. Some of the equipment they have include: a multi-accessory power rack, selectorized machines for isolation work, 5-130 pound dumbbells, over 25,000 lbs of free weights, a Smith machine, a full range of kettle bells, Prowler push sled, Versa Disks, Swiss Balls, Bosu Balls, 1.5" thick galvanized suspension chains and the now infamous Battling Ropes. They have all of the traditional pieces of equipment as well as some not so traditional. All of which they have found to be very effective to fight the war on fat.

Mike set us up on the aforementioned Battling Ropes (which are 2 inches thick and over 100 foot long tethered to a 50 lb Kettle Bell). He told us that they have become notorious at the training center. He said; one high profile client who wants to remain anonymous, said; "I love them and hate them. I get a total body workout, yet I want to throw up." This sentiment is shared by many that use these heavy ropes that look as if they were used on a tug boat, pulling barges down the Allegheny River. We spent approximately 30 seconds undulating the mammoth ropes and we felt as if our heart was going to jump right out of our chest. Our heart rate was higher than our SAT scores (and we scored pretty well on them.)

Do you like Cardio? They have high grade commercial treadmills, Life Fitness Elliptical machines, both upright and recumbent bikes and Stair Steppers. Their Clients are high-powered, busy people such as Professional and Collegiate Athletes, Doctors, Lawyers, Stay at Home Moms, Grandparents, and every walk of life in between. Their clients come in to change their bodies. They expect results and BodyXchange DELIVERS! Most people come here to change body composition. Gain Muscle, Lose Fat- they hear it all the time. The key to fat loss is cardio. The key to cardio is variation. These words are echoed throughout the training center.

For all of the hardcore training that takes place here, one would think that it would be a dark, dingy dungeon like Rocky style gym. Nothing could be further from the truth. This facility has walls adorned with flat screen plasma TV's, spacious and clean men's and women's locker rooms with showers that have ample number of lockers to store your belongings.

"WE AREN'T SELLING
LEMONADE HERE; WE ARE DEALING WITH PEOPLE'S HEALTH AND THEIR QUALITY OF LIFE."

One of the most refreshing things that this training center has is something that is hard to come by in the other area gyms - a knowledgeable, approachable and friendly staff. Koyack said; "We are very discerning in our staff selection. Every member of our staff is college educated and has extensive experience in anatomy and exercise physiology. We aren't selling lemonade here; we are dealing with people's health and their quality of life. We take that very serious. It is ridiculous that you have people working in this industry with no knowledge of health, wellness and fitness. That's why we hold ourselves to a higher standard. We believe we owe it to our members and clients. We are the fitness professionals in Pittsburgh. Our expertise and commitment is not just if you are working one on one with one of our certified personal trainers. You will frequently hear trainers and staff helping and encouraging members, showing proper form and offering advice on nutrition and lifestyle changes. We enjoy doing it and the members really have embraced our "hands-on" approach."

We can honestly say that after our tour of the gym and our workout with Mike, we are ready to change our body and change our life. We are tired of the same old "glamour / fashion show" health clubs, tired of the unknowledgeable, unapproachable, uneducated so-called fitness professionals in town. We are ready to Xchange our body for the body we were meant to have at BodyXchange Training Center.

EVENT HIGHLIGHTS:

2010 EQT PITTSBURGH THREE RIVERS REGATTA RETURNS THIS FOURTH OF JULY WEEKEND

This year marks the 33rd year of FREE, family fun at Pittsburgh's Golden Triangle with the annual EQT Pittsburgh Three Rivers Regatta, Pittsburgh's Official Fourth of July Celebration, beginning Friday, July 2 and running through Sunday, July 4.

Taking over Pittsburgh's North Shore, Point State Park and expanding to the Rivers Casino Amphitheater this year, the weekend-long festival is the largest event in the tri-state area offering air, water and land entertainment.

Some of the many highlights of this year's event include: the 2010 Powerboat Superleague Championships, the extreme Red Bull Air Force team of skydivers, B.A.S.E. jumpers and paragliders, music for every age and appetite like country headliner Craig Morgan (July 3, Point State Park), the U.S. Army Field Band and Chorus (July 4, Point State Park) and BEATLEMANIA™ (Rivers Casino Amphitheater, July 3 and 4), jet ski shows, a Kids Zone, the wildly popular "Anything that Floats" races, bass fishing tournament, dragon boat racing and so much more!

But what would the Fourth of July be without the fireworks? This year's EQT Pittsburgh Three Rivers Regatta will offer spectators the "Greatest Glow on Earth" with the EQT "Flashes of Freedom" Fireworks Fantasia, one of the best pyrotechnic displays in the country on July 4. Fireworks can also be seen following the Pittsburgh Pirates home game on July 3.

The 2010 EQT Pittsburgh Three Rivers Regatta is produced and managed by ISM/USA – a sports, event and cause marketing firm, based in Pittsburgh – offering clients a full line of specialty communications, promotions and public relations services.

Rubblebucket

All Good... And Then Some!

Last month, I flew to New York to cover one of my favorite bands – Ozomatli. Honestly, this article was going to be about them, until I arrived at the Highline Ballroom and discovered their opening band – RUBBLEBUCKET. I was absolutely blown away with what I heard.

If Brooklyn and New Orleans had a love child it would be conceived while listening to this wild young eight-some from Brooklyn, Boston and Burlington, Vermont (i.e. Ver-brook-ston). Drawing influence from the likes of Talking Heads, James Brown and Bjork, their banging horns and bombastic dance beats provide a landscape for the warm vocals of lead lady Kalmia. In the two years since their mythical seminal gig their all-original music has come to define a new genre: rock-ro-beat.

Kalmia Traver and Alex Toth, formerly of the John Brown's Body horn section, have been musical partners for over five years. In June of 2007 they joined forces with the worldly percussionist Craig Myers (of Mike Gordon Band) at an art opening/party held in an old milk plant in Burlington, Vermont. The night's magic and chemistry was undeniably potent. In the ensuing months Rubblebucket was born out of 9-hour rehearsals (containing meditative 40-minute vamps), epic home-made vegetarian meals, raucous basement parties, and moonlit escapades in Burlington and Boston.

Finding inspiration in hard work and honor in following one's dharma, the group dove into a lifestyle of tireless touring. Over the course of two years they gigged their way to recognition in markets throughout the Northeast and Midwest, and the band's determination and taste for life on the edge never dwindled. At a typical Rubblebucket show, expect to dance hard, sweat, feel warm and maybe even happy; you may even feel a communal sense of reverie with the band and the rest of the crowd.

Rubblebucket won the 2009 Boston Music Award for Live

Act of the Year and was featured in the December 2009 issue of Relix Magazine's "On The Verge: 5 Artists You Should Know." Additionally they were chosen by SPIN Magazine as a "Must-hear artist from the 2009 CMJs."

Rubblebucket is Alex Toth – trumpet/vocals/bandleader (he sometimes has a mohawk with a quadruple side mohawk. And he loves Kalmia); Kalmia Traver – lead vocals/tenor sax (she loves reverie, berry-picking and skinny-dipping, pennywhistles and making artwork); Adam Dotson- trombone/vocals (he won an international euphonium competition at age fourteen and never wears shoes when he plays); Craig Myers – percussion (he began playing percussion at age thirteen, and he has studied West African percussion extensively for ten years; traveing to Senegal, Mali, Cote Ivoire and Guinea); Dave Cole – drums (he also plays guitar and keyboards, has an amazing beard and smile, and owns has a Cyclops mask); Darby Wolf – keyboards (a.k.a. Darbstar. He uses Goff organs, Leslie speakers and is a vintage keyboard enthusiast); Mark Stewart – bass (he spent much of his time as a fetus listening to his mom's classical bass stylings, and himself became a bass-giving device. He enjoys banana-flavored things); Ian Hersey – guitar (he lives in Brooklyn and recently bought a box of at least 15 Casio keyboards, and he takes them apart and messes with them).

I was more than ecstatic to find out that Rubblebucket is playing very near Pittsburgh this month. They will perform as part of the 14th annual All Good Festival – July 8 – 11 – in Masontown, West Virginia. You can catch Rubblebucket on Saturday, July 10 on the Grassroots Stage. Also on the All Good line up are some of the biggest names in the Jamband scene including Furthur (featuring Phil Lesh and Bobby Weir of the Grateful Dead), Widespread Panic, Umphrey's McGee, George Clinton & Parliament Funkadelic, Yonder Mountain String Band, Old Crow Medicine Show, Dark Star Orchestra, and 35 more bands across the four-day festival.

All Good Music Festival and Campout has been touted as "the best fest for jambands this summer" by Rolling Stone, and I couldn't agree with them more. There are no overlapping sets, and the festival sits high atop Marvin's Mountaintop, with a breathtaking view of the Cheat River.

Get your tickets now to check out Rubblebucket (and all of the other great bands!) at All Good this month. Weekend packages start at $159 and can be purchased at www.allgoodfestival.com. Also, don't forget to connect with Rubblebucket online – www.rubblebucket.com and www.facebook.com/rubblebucket.

Happy Birthday, Jerry!

Celebrating Life, Love and Music in the Promised Land by: Trish Imbrogno

In 1995, the world lost one of the most influential rock musicians of the 20th century. Beginning even before his death – 25 years ago to be exact -- Sunshine Daydream Music Park (SSDD) outside of Morgantown, West Virginia, has honored legendary Grateful Dead guitarist Jerry Garcia with a festival on his birthday. Though SSDD's name changed this year to Promised Land Music Park, the Jerry Garcia Birthday Bash (JGBB) will be just as great as it has been for the last 24 seasons!

One of the headlining bands at this year's festival is Steve Kimock's Crazy Engine. Touted as "Unconventional. Experimental. It's sort of the Steve Kimock way" by CNN in 2009, Kimock flexes his versatility this year with a number of exclusive solo, acoustic and full band performances spanning both coasts, stopping by the Promised Land Music Park on July 31.

"I walked out of the house as a teenager and said, 'I'm just gonna play my guitar'" recalls Steve Kimock. "Literally, I didn't care if I had a place to live or if I was in the street or if I had anything to eat, I just played."

Almost forty-years later, it turns out not much has changed. Sure, now a loving husband and proud father, responsibility has reared its beautiful head, but Kimock still just wants to play his guitar (electric, acoustic, lap and pedal steel), and he does so with the same youthful passion, chasing the muse wherever she may lead him. In fact, when Kimock reflects on his life path, he admits, "I think the primary thing might be the complete lack of goal orientation."

Kimock has been out on the road since May 20 sharing the stage with the Everyone Orchestra – Kyle Hollingsworth (SCI), Jennifer Hartswick (Trey Anastasio Band), Dave Watts (The Motet), Jamie Janover (Zilla), Garrett Sayers (The Motet), Jamie Masefield (Jazz Mandolin Project), and Matt Butler.

Also on this tour, Steve joined forces with the ultra-experimental Marco Benevento for an intimate powerhouse June show in Wilkes-Barre, PA - near Kimock's home turf. Both known for their emotive and often instrumental arrangements, this pairing is sure not to disappoint.

Nestled in the hills of Terra Alta, West Virginia, Promised Land Music Park boasts beautiful skies and acres of lush green landscape. Located about 20 minutes from Morgantown, the former Sunshine Daydream Music Park has hosted some of the nation's most well known musicians – from String Cheese Incident, to Bobby Weir, to Ekoostik Hookah. The silver anniversary of JGBB proves to have nothing short of the same! The original members of New Riders of the Purple Sage, Mark Karan with Jerimiah Puddleduck, Hot Buttered Rum, Toni Brown and Ed Munson, The TrainJumpers, Pittsburgh's own theCAUSE, and many more!

The 25th annual Jerry Garcia Birthday Bash take place from July 29 through August 1, and tickets are $65 in advance, $80 at the gate. If you'd like to arrive on Thursday, early-bird camping is available for an additional $20.

For more information about Steve Kimock, his projects or for on-line ticket sales check out www.kimock.com. Interested to know more about Jerry Garcia Birthday Bash or Promised Land Music Park? You can find them online at www.sunshinedreams.com or search Promised Land Music Park on Facebook!

TED NUGENT

Pittsburgh Concert Group in association with Drusky Entertainment and WDVE presents TED NUGENT (www.tednugent.com) live in concert with a very special guest TBA for an all ages show at the Trib Total Media Amphitheatre at Station Square (One Station Square West Lot, Pittsburgh, PA 15219) on July 30, 2010 5:30 doors, 7:00 show. Seated tickets range in price from $25 to $37.50 with a very limited amount of gold circle tickets for $75. Tickets are available at all Ticketmaster outlets, www.ticketmaster.com or by calling 1-800-745-3000.

Throughout his lengthy career, guitar wild man Ted Nugent has reveled in the controversy and criticism that always seems to follow in his path. While there's no denying his exceptional talent on the six-string, his knack for penning arena rock anthems, or his standing as one of rock's top live acts, it's his nonmusical endeavors that have caused the most condemnation from his detractors (his pro-right wing beliefs, pro-gun advocacy, appreciation of hunting animals, etc.). But, by the same token, Nugent is a family man and one of the few hard rockers who has admirably stuck by his lifelong anti-drugs and -drink stance throughout his career.

With band members coming and going at an alarming rate, Nugent remained the only constant member -- eventually officially changing the band's name to Ted Nugent & the Amboy Dukes by the '70s, and issuing 1971's Survival of the Fittest, 1973's Call of the Wild, and 1974's Tooth, Fang & Claw. While none of these releases exactly stormed the charts, Nugent and his cohorts remained an in-demand concert draw, as he also set up "guitar duels" on-stage around this time (battling with MC5's Wayne Kramer and Mahogany Rush's Frank Marino, among others).

By the mid-'70s, Nugent decided to finally ditch the Amboy Dukes name and set out on his own, assembling a first-rate backing band that included second guitarist/vocalist Derek St. Holmes, bassist Rob Grange, and drummer Cliff Davies. By 1975, the new band was signed to Aerosmith's management company (Leber & Krebs), as well as the same record company, Columbia, resulting in the release of Nugent's self-titled debut in November of the same year. The band immediately struck a chord with the heavy metal/hard rock crowd from coast to coast, due to the band's over-the-top stage show. But the band members' relationship with Nugent was rocky at best -- Nugent wanted complete control of the band, while the others wanted it to be more of a democracy. The end result was St. Holmes leaving the band prior to the sessions of their sophomore effort, 1976's Free-for-All (which saw a then-unknown singer by the name of Meat Loaf filling in for the departed singer).

St. Holmes returned, however, in time for the album's ensuing tour, and by the release of 1977's Cat Scratch Fever (which spawned the hit single title track), Nugent and his band was one of the top rock bands in the U.S. -- storming the charts and selling out arenas coast to coast. By now, Nugent had assumed the stage persona of a caveman -- hitting the stage dressed in nothing but a skimpy loincloth and knee-high boots, and would often begin his show by swinging out on a rope à la Tarzan (!). Like other rock acts of the '70s (Kiss, Cheap Trick, Peter Frampton, etc.), Nugent used a live album to catapult his career to the next level of stardom -- 1978's classic Double Live Gonzo! But despite all the success, the members of his band began deserting him one by one over the course of such albums as 1978's Weekend Warriors, 1979's State of Shock, and 1980's Scream Dream. To add insult to injury, Nugent found himself bankrupt around this time, due to several failed business ventures and poor management.

Nugent continued to tour and crank out albums throughout the '80s. Nugent also tried his hand at acting around this time, appearing as a drug dealer in an episode of the hit TV series Miami Vice in 1986. By the end of the decade, Nugent joined the rock super group Damn Yankees (joining former Night Ranger bassist/singer Jack Blades, former Styx guitarist/singer Tommy Shaw, and drummer Michael Cartellone) -- resulting in the quartet's self-titled debut in 1990, which became a surprise hit due to their Top Ten power ballad, "High Enough." But ultimately, the union proved to be short-lived; after only one more album (1992's lackluster Don't Tread), the band called it quits.

Nugent returned to his solo career, issuing his best album in over a decade, 1995's back-to-basics Spirit of the Wild, while several archival releases turned up throughout the '90s: 1993's three-disc box set Out of Control, 1997's Live at Hammersmith '79, as well as his first three albums reissued with added tracks and newly re-mastered sound in 1999 by the Epic/Legacy label (also issued at the same time was the first truly comprehensive compilation of the Amboy Dukes, the 18-track Loaded for Bear).

In addition to music, Nugent has gotten involved in politics, hosting a number one morning radio show in Detroit, has issued his own hunting camp and issues instructional videotapes (as well as the Ted Nugent Spirit of the Wild PBS video series), owns his own hunting supply store, has been appointed to the Board of Directors of the National Rifle Association, writes columns regularly for a number of different magazines, and even sells his very own beef jerky (called Gonzo Meat Biltong)! In 2001, the Nuge penned his own autobiography, the perfectly titled -God, Guns, & Rock n' Roll. Greg Prato, All Music Guide.

ASK THE LAWYER: "LEGAL BRIEFS"
COURTESY OF LOCAL ATTORNEY JEFF POLLOCK

Q: What should I do if I get injured in an accident?

A: In short: document everything, take pictures of the scene, beware of what is said/not said, and do not sign anything without a chance to research your rights.

No one wants to get hurt in an accident. Skeptics believe that some people do not mind getting injured by someone else's carelessness so that a lawsuit can be filed to "get rich quick." After talking with many clients in my 22 years of law practice, no one has said that they enjoyed getting injured so that they could pay a lawyer to spend many hours/months/years pursuing a claim for monetary damages while going to health care providers, missing work, and not being able to do physically what they used to do.

No matter whether you get hurt in a car crash, a slip-and-fall incident, a product liability accident, animal attack, or some other mishap, always take good notes and keep thorough records. Write down all the relevant names, addresses, phone numbers, e-mail addresses, and titles of the relevant witnesses (e.g., the customers, employees, other drivers, passengers, sub-contractors, property owners that are present or available by signs/nametags) to your injury and exchange the requisite insurance policy information. However, if you have been seriously hurt, you should obviously address your injuries immediately.

Pay careful attention to anything said by the other party/tortfeasor/accident-causer, especially about admissions of responsibility, acknowledgement of carelessness, or recognition of length of time that the hazard existed. Seriously consider not giving a statement or signing any releases, etc. until you have formally obtained an attorney to protect your interests.

If you have a camera or camera phone, record as much as you can to help re-construct the scene for your lawyer, the police, a jury, etc. Create a file and keep it organized with every medical record, hospital bill, missed work figure, pay stub documents, statements from your employer or friends about how your work/activity/demeanor has been affected, out-of-pocket expense proof, and the like.

Be careful with whom you speak about the incident. Your communications to witnesses, police, and insurance adjusters may be misconstrued or twisted against you. Advice from physicians and legal counsel should be reliable expertise on which to base decisions about your situation. Comments from friends and family may be well-meaning but a possible detriment to any potential case.

Make sure that your attorney always has updated contact information for you. Most lawyers prefer succinct letters or weekly e-mails or to schedule appointments rather than receive daily surprise visits or calls. Keep a log or journal of all your health care experiences/mileage costs/time inconveniences, a tally of your lost earnings, and an outline of how your activities of daily life have been altered/compromised. Such conscientiousness on a client's part will help the lawyer to best prepare the case and "trial notebook." The more closely that a lawyer and his staff can work with a client increases the preparation and completeness of the injured person's case, which improves the chances for a successful settlement or a winning trial.

If anyone has further questions about such unfortunate situations, please feel free to contact me.

Travel

New way to get the MOST out of traveling in 2010...

“Sometimes there are just not enough hours in a day,” to wash your hair! This statement has never been truer, especially when traveling. Whether you’re sightseeing in Europe with your girlfriends, touring Disney World with your husband and kids, on a romantic tropical getaway with your boyfriend, or RVing around one of our country’s breathtaking national parks, it is always difficult to pull yourself away for the hour (or more!) it takes to properly wash, condition, blow dry and style your hair. Being that vacation time from work these days is a very precious commodity, who wants to spend it in a hotel bathroom doing their hair? It’s true, washing your hair everyday can cause long-term damage, destroying the roots and making it very dry and brittle. However, after a long day of sightseeing, lounging on the beach, or waiting in line at Space Mountain, your hair has probably developed an oily appearance, lost its volume, or even developed a foul odor. This calls for a proper washing, especially if you are planning a night of dinner, drinks and dancing. So with all of this in mind, I would like to present to you a practical way for the busy “girl-on-the-go” to maximize her valuable vacation time this year without sacrificing her personal appearance.

Powdered or dry shampoos are no new invention; they have actually been around since the 1970’s. Traditional “wet” shampoo cleans your hair and scalp of a variety of dead skin cells and natural oils called sebum which accumulate around your hairs roots throughout the course of a day. Dry shampoos, which usually have a base of talc, cornstarch, potato, or rice, soak up rather than wash away sebum. Then when you brush the powder out of your hair, you also brush away the grungy appearance. Because dry shampoos do not rid your hair of as much sebum, you can safely use them once or several times between traditional washings. In the past dry shampoos, although effective, would leave behind an undesirable white powdery residue. Then these products evolved and started to come in a variety of colors to match your hair. This innovation seemed groundbreaking at the time; however a common problem when applying these products is they would leave black or brown powder all over your shoulders, forehead, counter top and bathroom floor. At this point you might as well have just taken a shower!

Salon Grafix new Invisible Dry Spray Shampoo will leave your hair feeling clean and refreshed without the residue. Great for all hair types and styles, Salon Grafix Invisible Dry Spray Shampoo goes on clean and clear, with no visible powder left behind. When applied, the new invisible formula quickly absorbs the oily buildup on your scalp giving you a refreshed look in a fraction of the time of a traditional shampooing. By simply spraying it in your hair and brushing it out, your hair will look and feel rejuvenated. Salon Grafix new invisible formula also neutralizes odors, making it the perfect middle man in between showers to keep your hair looking, and smelling fantastic!

Salon Grafix (www.salongrafix.com) is dedicated to bringing you the finest salon quality hair care products for a modest price. Their new Invisible Dry Spray Shampoo retails for $7.99 and can be purchased at all major drug retail stores such as: Target, Wal-Mart, Walgreens, CVS, Rite Aid, etc. Plus, its small enough to pack without taking up too much space, but the time you will save by using it will make you glad you brought it!

Theater - PNC Broadway 2010/2011 Schedule

Most subscription series productions are Pittsburgh premieres; season features four Tony®-winning productions including 2008 and 2009 winners for Best Musical Revival and 2009 winner for Best Musical Score!

PNC Broadway Across America - presented by The Pittsburgh Cultural Trust, The Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra, and Broadway Across America - today unveiled its "practically perfect" 2010/2011 season. One of the city's premier entertainment series, PNC Broadway Across America - Pittsburgh is generously sponsored by The PNC Foundation. The 2010/2011 season presents an array of must-see musical theater productions presented on the Cultural District's world-class stages.

The season starts with Lincoln Center Theater's lavish and flawless new production of Rodgers & Hammerstein's SOUTH PACIFIC, followed by the new musical arena-rock love story, ROCK OF AGES. Broadway's "magical hit musical" - the roof-raising MARY POPPINS produced by Disney and Cameron Mackintosh - will fly into the Benedum Center for an extravaganza at the beginning of 2011. Then, the energetic musical revival that will set you in search of peace and love, HAIR, continues the season, and Pittsburgh will get a make-ogre with the hilarious story of everyone's favorite ogre, SHREK THE MUSICAL. Next up is what critics have rated among "the best of 2009," the emotional powerhouse musical, NEXT TO NORMAL. And finally - from the first notes to the final breath - Pittsburgh audiences will be captivated as the all-new production of WEST SIDE STORY rounds out this not-to-be-missed season of Pittsburgh premiere musicals.

"The PNC Foundation is proud once again to be the presenting sponsor of this series, which draws over 300,000 visitors to our city's vibrant Cultural District each year and generates an economic impact estimated at more than $30 million annually for the region," said James E. Rohr, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of The PNC Financial Services Group. "The PNC Broadway Across America - Pittsburgh series contributes to the Pittsburgh's reputation as a major destination for arts and entertainment, bringing world-class Broadway productions close to home for residents of southwestern Pennsylvania."

Subscription packages range from $101 to $456, and information is available by calling 412-456-1390 (local), 800-828-9200 (outside Pittsburgh), or visiting www.pgharts.org. Information about discounted group tickets (minimums and discounts vary by production) is available by calling 412-471-6930.

PNC BROADWAY ACROSS AMERICA - PITTSBURGH 2010/2011 SEASON

The Lincoln Center Theater Production of Rodgers & Hammerstein's SOUTH PACIFIC November 2-7, 2010, at the Benedum Center

"A Flawless Production!" - The New York Times. A

stunning reinvention produced by Lincoln Center Theater, SOUTH PACIFIC swept the 2008 Tony® Awards, winning seven honors including Best Musical Revival and Best Director for Bartlett Sher. This breathtaking new production features a cast of 34 and a full orchestra of 26 members - the largest orchestra of any touring Broadway production. Set on a tropical island during World War II, this musical tells the sweeping romantic story of two couples and how their happiness is threatened by the realities of war and by their own prejudices. The beloved score includes "Some Enchanted Evening," "I'm Gonna Wash That Man Right Outa My Hair," and "There Is Nothin' Like A Dame."

ROCK OF AGES November 23-28, 2010, at the Benedum Center

"Impossible to resist! As guilty as pleasures get!" - The New York Times

In 1987 on the Sunset Strip, a small town girl met a big city rocker in LA's most famous rock club, and they fell in love to the greatest songs of the '80s. It's five-time Tony® Award nominee ROCK OF AGES, an arena-rock love story told through the mind-blowing, face-melting hits of Journey, Night Ranger, Styx, REO Speedwagon, Pat Benatar, Twisted Sister, Poison, Asia, Whitesnake and many more. Don't miss this awesomely good time about dreaming big, playing loud and partying on!

Disney and Cameron Mackintosh present MARY POPPINS

January 5-23, 2011, at the Benedum Center

"Irresistible! Broadway has found a fresh fountain of youth that will make many a grown-up feel like a kid again! -USA Today. Get ready as the world's most famous nanny flies into the Benedum Center!

Combining the best of the original stories by P.L. Travers and the beloved Walt Disney film, the Tony® Award-winning MARY POPPINS is everything you'd hope for in a Broadway musical - and more. Produced by Disney and Cameron Mackintosh, this show includes such wonderful songs as "Chim Chim Cher-ee," "A Spoonful of Sugar," "Let's Go Fly a Kite" and, of course, "Supercalifragilisticexpialidocious." The New York Daily News hails MARY POPPINS as "a roof-raising, toe-tapping, high-flying extravaganza!" Let your imagination take flight at this magical hit musical!

HAIR
February 15-20, 2011, at Heinz Hall

"Thrilling, emotionally rich production delivers intense, unadulterated joy!" -The New York Times. New York's

Public Theater's new Tony® Award-winning production of HAIR is the most electric celebration on Broadway! This exuberant musical about a group of young Americans searching for peace and love in a turbulent time has struck a resonant chord with audiences young and old. HAIR features an extraordinary cast and dozens of unforgettable songs including "Aquarius," "Let the Sun Shine In," "Good Morning, Starshine," and "Easy To Be Hard." Its relevance is undeniable. Its energy is unbridled. Its truth is unwavering. It's HAIR, and it's time.

SHREK THE MUSICAL
March 15-20, 2011, at the Benedum Center

"A triumph of comic imagination, altogether irresistible!" -USA Today SHREK THE MUSICAL, based on the Oscar®- winning DreamWorks film that started it all, brings the hilarious story of everyone's favorite ogre to life on the stage. In a faraway kingdom turned upside down, things get ugly when an unseemly ogre--not a handsome prince--shows up to rescue a feisty princess. Throw in a donkey who won't shut up, a bad guy with a short temper, a cookie with an attitude and over a dozen other fairy tale misfits, and you've got the kind of mess that calls for a real hero. Luckily, there's one on hand...and his name is Shrek. Featuring a terrific score of 19 all-new songs, big laughs, great dancing and breathtaking scenery, USA Today proclaims SHREK THE MUSICAL, "A big fat hit!"

NEXT TO NORMAL
April 5-10, 2011, at the Benedum Center

"It is the best musical of the season - by a mile. It'll pin you to your seat." -Rolling Stone From the director of RENT comes NEXT TO NORMAL, an emotional powerhouse of a musical with a thrilling, contemporary score about a family trying to take care of themselves and each other. Winner of three 2009 Tony® Awards including Best Score, NEXT TO NORMAL is the most talked about new show on Broadway having recently been chosen as "one of the year's best" by major critics around the country. The New York Times calls NEXT TO NORMAL "a brave, breathtaking musical. A work of muscular grace and power. It is much more than a feel-good musical; it is a feel-everything musical."

WEST SIDE STORY
May 17-22, 2011, at the Benedum Center

"So exciting it makes you ache with pleasure." -The New Yorker More than 50 years ago, one musical changed theater forever. Now it's back to mesmerize audiences once again. From the first note to the final breath, the smash hit Broadway revival of WEST SIDE STORY soars as the greatest love story of all time. Directed by Tony® Award winner Arthur Laurents, WEST SIDE STORY remains as powerful, poignant and timely as ever. The new Broadway cast album won the 2010 Grammy Award for Best Musical Show Album.

Tailgaters

by Suz Pisano

Tucked away in the corner of Washington Plaza, yep that’s the giant white building with the big red “W” on it, right above the new Consol Energy Center is..... Tailgaters..... our newest find that’s that you’re gonna love.

Owner Jackie Horvath knows a great location when she sees one and jumped at the chance to open a sports bar with a traditional “bar food” menu but surprisingly a place where everything is homemade. Tailgaters, of course offers a full bar with beer on tap but I have to tell you about the food. Chef Tom Chojnacki serves up all the familiars but we wanted to try everything on the menu because everyone loves Nachos Grande ($7.95) or a Quesadilla ($6.95). We literally could not stop eating the nachos. They were piled high with homemade salsa, jalapeno peppers, and shredded Monterey Jack & Cheddar cheeses, sooooo good with a beer after work. We even tried the Warm Soft Pretzel, ($3.25) better than any pretzel served in sporting arenas! Then they brought us the Wings (6 - $5.95, 12- $9.95 & 18- $13.95). Definitely try the Hippie Sauce- it was finger licking good! The wings were perfectly crispy and

“...a sports bar with a traditional “bar food” menu but surprisingly a place where everything is homemade.”

I was soooo hoping that there would be at least 2 left so that I could take them home... There was, and I was so happy to share them with my husband, a self-described “connoisseur of wings”. Such an unusual but seemingly addicting wing sauce.... I’m going to say no more- you’ll just have to try ‘em & let me know what you think. I love good wings. (I will have undoubtedly been back there at least once by the time you are reading this!)

Okay, so now we were intrigued - Burgers were definitely on the menu and we tried a basic homemade Cheeseburger ($6.95 + toppings). Very delicious and served with some great fresh cut fries. I truly believe that we’re on to something here. Toppings for the burgers are plentiful and there’s surely something to satisfy every taste. As far as sandwiches- Tailgaters also offers Fish & Chicken

Sandwiches, but I want to tell you about the Wraps. They look pretty straight forward on the simple black & white menu but the Buffalo Chicken Wrap ($6.95) was really rockin’! Even when I heated up the half we couldn’t finish the next day - it was still very delicious. Portions are generous and the wraps are big, the served with fresh cut fries.

Salads are offered – we shared the Steak Salad ($10.95) which was mixed greens, Rib Eye steak, grilled onions, roasted red peppers, cheeses, tomatoes, & cucumbers.

Are you recognizing the simplicity? Tailgaters certainly covers all the bases, they even make Pizza!

Grilled Pizzas with golden char-grilled crust range from Traditional ($7.99), Margherita ($8.99) Veggie Delight ($8.99) or Steak Deluxe ($8.99). Fresh ingredients reign over top of fresh dough dusted with cornmeal and flame grilled. This is not your ordinary pizza. Then again, this is not your ordinary sports bar! You will love knowing about this place when hockey season starts again or when you want to grab a bite before a concert. It's a hidden gem for now that's sure to be a familiar destination or perfect meet-up spot. Outdoor seating is also available.

You may wonder where to park - free parking is included at Washington Plaza or for the time being across the street at the Civic Arena upper lot (until construction or destruction begins). Take advantage of this out-of-the-way Downtown establishment. Be sure to stop in & say "Hi" to Jackie & Chef Tom. He's a familiar face with an extensive restaurant resume. Together they make a great team at an up and coming place where team sports will certainly be the focus! Open daily for lunch at 11:30 and until 2 am most nights, not open on holidays.

Refreshing Mojitos

Refreshing Mojitos - two delicious recipes.... from the Mixologist aMeson del Angel Restaurant - Heavenly Food Experience San Jose del Cabo, Los Cabos, Baja California Sur, Mexico

TRADITIONAL RUM MOJITO

INGREDIENTS:

Fresh mint leaves
Fresh limes (3)
Organic Sugar in the raw
Sparkling water - San Pellegrino
Dominican or Dark Rum
Ice cubes

In a 14 oz glass, put a bunch of mint leaves, three spoons of sugar in the raw and the juice of three limes. Mash - muddle these ingredients until you have a good mix of flavors and aromas. Add some ice cubes and 2 ounces of rum. Top with sparkling water using a martini shaker, shake it very very well covering the shaker with your 14 oz glass. Serve with a stick of sugar cane.

TEQUILA MOJITO.

INGREDIENTS:

Tequila (a high quality tequila is recommended for better results).
Orange cut into quarters of slices
Lemon cut into half slices
Lime cut into half slices
Organic Sugar in the raw
Half orange
Ice cubes.
Sparkling water - San Pellegrino

In a 14 oz glass, put three pieces of the cut orange, three pieces of the cut lemon and three pieces of the cut lime, two spoons of sugar in the raw and the juice of half orange. Mash - muddle these ingredients until you get a nice mix of flavors and aromas. Add some ice and two ounces of tequila; top with sparkling water and use the martini shaker to, covering it with the 14 oz glass, shake it vigorously. Serve with a stick of sugar cane.

Humor

Special Bartender

A guy sat down at the bar and ordered a beer. The bartender filled his mug and slid it down the bar.. While sliding down the bar, the mug hit a blond woman's boobs and splashed all over them... The bartender went over, retrieved the mug and licked the beer off her boobs. Each time the guy called for another beer this happened. After his third beer, the guy decided to help the bartender out. The next time the bartender hit her boobs, the man jumped up and started to lick them...She decked him! He was laying on the floor moaning, 'Jeez lady... Why'd you let the bartender lick your boobs, but not me?' 'Duh,' said the blonde, 'He has a licker license!'

Traffic Camera

I was driving when I saw the flash of a traffic camera. I figured that my picture had been taken for exceeding the limit even though I knew that I was not speeding. Just to be sure, I went around the block and passed the same spot, driving even more slowly, but again the camera flashed. Now I began to think that this was quite funny, so I drove even slower as I passed the area once more, but the traffic camera again flashed. I tried a fourth and fifth time with the same results and was now laughing as the camera flashed while I rolled past at a snail's pace. Two weeks later, I got five tickets in the mail for driving without a seat belt. You can't fix stupid.

This Is Why We Love Old People

A farmer stopped by the local mechanics shop to have his truck fixed. They couldn't do it while he waited, so he said he didn't live far and would just walk home. On the way home he stopped at the hardware Store and bought a bucket and a gallon of paint. He then stopped by the feed store and picked up a couple of chickens and a goose. However, struggling outside the store he now had a problem - how to carry his entire purchases home. While he was scratching his head he was approached by a little old lady who told him she was lost. She asked, 'Can you tell me how to get to 1603 Mockingbird Lane ?' The farmer said, 'Well, as a matter of fact, my farm is very close to that house I would walk you there but I can't carry this lot.' The old lady suggested, 'Why don't you put the can of paint in the bucket. Carry the bucket in one hand, put a chicken under each arm and carry the goose in your other hand?' 'Why thank you very much,' he said and proceeded to walk the old girl home. On the way he says 'Let's take my short cut and go down this alley. We'll be there in no time.' The little old lady looked him over cautiously then said, 'I am a lonely widow without a husband to defend me.. How do I know that when we get in the alley you won't hold me up against the wall, pull up my skirt, and have your way with me?' The farmer said, 'Holy smokes lady! I'm carrying a bucket, a gallon of paint, two chickens, and a goose. How in the world could I possibly hold you up against the wall and do that?' The old lady replied, 'Set the goose down, cover him with the bucket, put the paint on top of the bucket, and I'll hold the chickens!

Old men

A man was sunbathing naked at the beach. For the sake of civility, and to keep it from getting Sunburned, he had a hat over his privates. A woman walks past and says, snickering, "If you were a gentleman you'd lift your hat." He raised an eyebrow and replied, "If you weren't so ugly it would lift itself."

Men Are Just Happier People

NICKNAMES

If Laura, Kate, and Sarah go out for lunch, they will call each other Laura, Kate, and Sarah.

If Mike, Dave, and John go out, they will affectionately refer to each other as, Fat Boy, Four Eyes, and Baldy.

EATING OUT

When the bill arrives, Mike, Dave, and John will each throw in $20, even though it's only for $32.50. None of them will have anything smaller, and none will actually admit they want change back. When the girls get their bill, out come the pocket calculators.

MONEY

A man will pay $2, for a $1 item he needs. A woman will pay $1, for a $2 item that she doesn't need, but it's on sale.

BATHROOMS

A man has six items in his bathroom: toothbrush, and toothpaste, shaving cream, razor, a bar of soap, and a towel . The average number of items in the typical woman's bathroom is 337. A man would not be able to identify more than 20 of these items.

ARGUMENTS

A woman has the last word in any argument. Anything a man says after that, is the beginning of a new argument.

FUTURE

A woman worries about the future, until she gets a husband. A man never worries about the future, until he gets a wife.

SUCCESS

A successful man, is one who makes more money than his wife can spend. A successful woman, is one who can find such a man.

MARRIAGE

A woman marries a man, expecting he will change, but he doesn't. A man marries a woman, expecting that she won't change, but she does.

DRESSING UP

A woman will dress up to go shopping, water the plants, empty the trash, answer the phone, read a book, and get the mail. A man will dress up for weddings, and funerals.

Humor

NATURAL

Men wake up as good-looking as they went to bed.
Women somehow, deteriorate during the night.

OFFSPRING

Ah, children. A woman knows all about her children. She knows about dentist appointments, and romances, best friends, favorite foods, secret fears and hopes, and dreams. A man, is vaguely aware of some short people living in the house.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

A married man should forget his mistakes. There's no use in two people remembering the same thing!

Blonde Paint Job

A blonde, wanting to earn some money, decided to hire herself out as a handyman-type and started canvassing a wealthy neighborhood. She went to the front door of the first house and asked the owner if he had any jobs for her to do. "Well, you can paint my porch. How much will you charge?" The blonde said, "How about 50 dollars?" The man agreed and told her that the paint and ladders that she might need were in the garage. The man's wife, inside the house, heard the conversation and said to her husband, "Does she realize that the porch goes all the way around the house?" The man replied, "She should. She was standing on the porch." A short time later, the blonde came to the door to collect her money. "You're finished already?" he asked. "Yes," the blonde answered, "and I had paint left over, so I gave it two coats. "Impressed, the man reached in his pocket for the $50. "And by the way," the blonde added, "that's not a Porch, it's a Ferrari."

Generous Lawyer

A local United Way office realized that the organization had never received a donation from the town's most successful lawyer. The person in charge of contributions called him to persuade him to contribute. "Our research shows that out of a yearly income of at least $500,000, you give not a penny to charity. Wouldn't you like to give back to the community in some way?" The lawyer mulled this over for a moment and replied, "First, did your research also show that my mother is dying after a long illness, and has medical bills that are several times her annual income?" Embarrassed, the United Way rep mumbled, "Um ... no." The lawyer interrupts, "or that my brother, a disabled veteran, is blind and confined to a wheelchair?" The stricken United Way rep began to stammer out an apology, but was interrupted again. "or that my sister's husband died in a traffic accident," the lawyer's voice rising in indignation, "leaving her penniless with three children?!" The humiliated United Way rep, completely beaten, said simply, "I had no idea..." On a roll, the lawyer cut him off once again, "So if I don't give any money to them, why should I give any to you?"

Glad To Be Drunk

A completely inebriated man was stumbling down the street with one foot on the curb and one foot in the gutter. A cop pulled up and said, "I've got to take you in, pal. You're obviously drunk." Our wasted friend asked, "Officer, are ya absolutely sure I'm drunk?" "Yeah, buddy, I'm sure," said the copper. "Let's go." Breathing a sigh of relief, the wino said, "Thank goodness, I thought I was crippled."

New prefix

If blondes and bimbos were the same thing, the prefix 'bim' could be used to create new words that describe them:

- Bimbabble - noises coming from a group of blondes
- Bimbaffled - constant mental state of blondes
- Bimbait - short skirts, sheer blouses, string bikinis or other clothing worn by blondes in an attempt to attract the attention of males
- Bimbar - a bar where blondes hang out wearing bimbait
- Bimbag - a blonde's purse
- Bimbrushes - essential equipment in a bimbag
- Bimbastic surgeon - specialist in breast enhancements for blondes
- Bimbeeper - special instrument used as a homing device for lost blondes
- Bimbellow - sound emanating from a blonde after she finally got the most recent blonde joke she heard
- Bimbillion? - a blonde giving an estimate of anything

Two Zebras Pondering

Two zebras are talking and one asks the other, "Am I black with white stripes or white with black stripes?" The other replies, "Well I don't know. You should pray to God about that and ask him." So that night he did and God replied, "You are what you are." The next day he said to the other zebra, "I still don't understand what I am because God just said, You are what you are." The second zebra responds, "You must be white with black stripes or else God would have said, Yo is what yo is."

2 Choices

John is the kind of guy you love to hate. He is always in a good mood and always has something positive to say. When someone would ask him how he was doing, he would reply, 'If I were any better, I would be twins!' He was a natural motivator.

If an employee was having a bad day, John was there telling the employee how to look on the positive side of the situation. Seeing this style really made me curious, so one day I went up and asked him, 'I don't get it!' 'You can't be a positive person all of the time. How do you do it?' He replied, 'Each morning I wake up and say to myself, you have two choices today. You can choose to be in a good mood or...you can choose to be in a bad mood - I choose to be in a good mood.' Each time something bad happens, I can choose to be a victim or...I can choose to learn from it. I choose to learn from it. Every time someone comes to me complaining, I can choose to accept their complaining or...I can point out the positive side of life. I choose the positive side of life. 'Yeah, right, it's not that easy,' I protested. 'Yes, it is,' he said. 'Life is all about choices. When you cut away all the junk, every situation is a choice. You choose how you react to situations. You choose how people affect your mood. You choose to be in a good mood or bad mood. The bottom line: It's your choice how you live your life.' I reflected on what he said. Soon hereafter, I left the Tower Industry to start my own business. We lost touch, but I often thought about him when I made a choice about life instead of reacting to it. Several years later, I heard that he was involved in a serious accident, falling some 60 feet from a communications tower. After 18 hours of surgery and weeks of intensive care, he was released from the hospital with rods placed in his back. I saw him about six months after the accident. When I asked him how he was, he replied, 'If I were any better, I'd be twins...Wanna see my scars?' I declined to see his wounds, but I did ask him what had gone through his mind as the accident took place. 'The first thing that went through my mind was the well-being of my soon-to-be born daughter,' he replied. 'Then, as I lay on the ground, I remembered that I had two choices: I could choose to live or...I could choose to die. I chose to live.'

'Weren't you scared? Did you lose consciousness?' I asked. He continued, '...the paramedics were great. They kept telling me I was going to be fine. But when they wheeled me into the ER and I saw the expressions on the faces of the doctors and nurses, I got really scared. In their eyes, I read 'he's a dead man'. I knew I needed to take action.' 'What did you do?' I asked. 'Well, there was a big burly nurse shouting questions at me,' said John. 'She asked if I was allergic to anything 'Yes, I replied.' The doctors and nurses stopped working as they waited for my reply. I took a deep breath and yelled, 'Gravity'' Over their laughter, I told them, 'I am choosing to live. Operate on me as if I am alive, not dead.' He lived, thanks to the skill of his doctors, but also because of his amazing attitude....I learned from him that every day we have the choice to live fully. Attitude, after all, is everything. Therefore, do not worry about tomorrow, for tomorrow will worry about itself. Each day has enough trouble of its own.' Matthew 6:34. After all today is the tomorrow you worried about yesterday.

The Penis Poem

My nookie days are over, my pilot light is out. What used to be my sex appeal, is now my water spout. Time was when, on its own accord, from my trousers it would spring. But now I've got a full time job, to find the !#@!# thing. It used to be embarrassing, the way it would behave. For every single morning, it would stand and watch me shave. Now as old age approaches, it sure gives me the blues. To see it hang its little head, and watch me tie my shoes!

In Light of the Oil Spill man was driving down the road and ran out of gas. Just at that moment, a bee flew in his window. The bee said, 'What seems to be the problem?' 'I'm out of gas,' the man replied. The bee told the man to wait right there and flew away. Minutes later, the man watched as an entire swarm of bees flew to his car and into his gas tank. After a few minutes, the bees flew out. 'Try it now,' said one bee. The man turned the ignition key and the car started right up. 'Wow!' the man exclaimed, 'what did you put in my gas tank'? The bee replied, "BP!"

I Wanna Watch

My neighbors, the two cute, young, lesbians next door, asked me what I would like for my birthday. I was quite surprised, when they gave me a Timex! It was very nice of them, but I'm pretty sure that they misunderstood me, when I said: "I wanna watch !"

Beauty Tips

Below is a wonderful poem Audrey Hepburn wrote when asked to share her 'beauty tips.' It was read at her funeral years later. For attractive lips, speak words of kindness.

For lovely eyes, seek out the good in people

- For a slim figure, share your food with the hungry.
- For beautiful hair, let a child run his/her fingers through it once a day.
- For poise, walk with the knowledge that you never walk alone. People, even more than things, have to be restored, renewed, revived, reclaimed, and redeemed; never throw out anyone. Remember, if you ever need a helping hand, you will find one at the end of each of your arms.

As you grow older, you will discover that you have two hands; one for helping yourself, and the other for helping others.

Foot Note

One saggy boob said to the other saggy boob:

'If we don't get some support soon, people will think we're nuts.'

The Funniest Staff Meeting Ever!

The boss of a Madison Avenue advertising agency called a spontaneous staff meeting in the middle of a particularly stressful week. (This is one pretty sharp boss!) When everyone gathered, the boss, who understood the benefits of having fun, told the burnt out staff the purpose of the meeting was to have a quick contest. The theme: Viagra advertising slogans.

The only rule was they had to use past ad slogans, originally written for other products that captured the essence of Viagra. Slight variations were acceptable. About 7 minutes later, they turned in their suggestions and created a Top 10 List.. With all the laughter and camaraderie, the rest of the week went very well for everyone! The top 10 were:

10. Viagra, Whaazzzz up!
9. Viagra, The quicker pecker picker upper.
8. Viagra, like a rock !
7. Viagra, When it absolutely, positively has to be there overnight.
6. Viagra , Be all that you can be.
5. Viagra, Reach out and touch someone.
4. Viagra, Strong enough for a man, but made for a woman.
3. Viagra, Home of the whopper!
2. Viagra, We bring good things to Life!

And the unanimous number one slogan:

1. This is your peepee... This is your peepee on drugs

Ever Wonder In Your Relationship, How 'the Fight' Started...:

One year, a husband decided to buy his mother-in-law a cemetery plot as a Christmas gift.. The next year, he didn't buy her a gift. When she asked him why, he replied, "Well, you still haven't used the gift I bought you last year!" And that's how the fight started...

My wife and I are watching Who Wants To Be A Millionaire while we were in bed. I turned to her and said, "Do you want to have Sex?" 'No,' she answered. I then said, 'Is that your final answer?' She didn't even look at me this time, simply saying 'Yes.' So I said, 'Then I'd like to phone a friend.' And that's when the fight started...

I took my wife to a restaurant. The waiter, for some reason, took my order first. 'I'll have the strip steak, medium rare, please.' He said, 'Aren't you worried about the mad cow?' 'Nah, she can order for herself.' And that's when the fight started...

My wife sat down on the couch next to me as I was flipping the channels. She asked, 'What's on TV?' I said, 'Dust.' And then the fight started...

My wife was hinting about what she wanted for our upcoming anniversary.. She said, 'I want something shiny that goes from 0 to 200 in about 3 seconds.' I bought her a scale. And then the fight started...

My wife and I were sitting at a table at her high school reunion, and she kept staring at a drunken man swigging his drink as he sat alone at a nearby table. I asked her, 'Do you know him?' 'Yes,' she sighed, 'He's my old boyfriend... I understand he took to drinking right after we split up those many years ago, and I hear he hasn't been sober since.' 'My God!' I said, 'Who would think a person could go on celebrating that long?' And then the fight started...

I rear-ended a car this morning... So, there we were alongside the road and slowly the other driver got out of his car. You know how sometimes you just get soooo stressed and little things just seem funny? Yeah, well I couldn't believe it... he was a DWARF!!! He stormed over to my car, looked up at me, and shouted, 'I AM NOT HAPPY!' So, I looked down at him and said, 'Well, then which one are you?' And then the fight started....

The Broken Lawn Mower

When our lawn mower broke and wouldn't run, my wife kept hinting to me that I should get it fixed. But, somehow I always had something else to take care of first, the truck, the car, playing golf. Always something more important to me. Finally she thought of a clever way to make her point. When I arrived home one day, I found her seated in the tall grass, busily snipping away with a tiny pair of sewing scissors. I watched silently for a short time and then went into the house. I was gone only a minute, and when I came out again I handed her a toothbrush. I said, 'When you finish cutting the grass, you might as well sweep the driveway.' The doctors say I will walk again, but I will always have a limp.

I Play Golf On Friday

Eileen and her husband Jim went for counseling after 25 years of marriage. When asked what the problem was, Eileen went into a passionate, painful tirade listing every problem they had ever had in the 25 years they had been married. She went on and on and on: neglect, lack of intimacy, emptiness, loneliness, feeling unloved and unlovable, an entire laundry list of unmet needs she had endured over the course of their marriage. Finally, after allowing this to go on for a sufficient length of time, the therapist got up, walked around the desk and after asking Eileen to stand, embraced her, unbuttoned her blouse and bra, put his hands on her breasts and massaged them thoroughly, while kissing her passionately as her husband Jim watched with a raised eyebrow! Eileen shut up, buttoned up her blouse, and quietly sat down while basking in the glow of being highly aroused. The therapist turned to Jim and said, 'This is what your wife needs at least three times a week.. Can you do this?' Jim thought for a moment and replied, 'Well, I can drop her off here on Mondays and Wednesdays, but on Fridays, I play golf.'

3 Blondes in Heaven

Three blondes died and are at the pearly gates of Heaven. St. Peter tells them that they can enter the gates if they can answer one simple question. St. Peter asks the first blonde,

“What is Easter?” The first blonde replies, “Oh, that’s easy! It’s the holiday in November when everyone gets together, eats turkey, and are thankful.” “Wrong!,” replies St. Peter, and proceeds to ask the second blonde the same question, “What is Easter?” The second blonde replies, “Easter is the holiday in December when we put up a nice tree, exchange presents, and celebrate the birth of Jesus.” St. Peter looks at the second blonde, shakes his head in disgust, tells her she’s wrong, and then peers over his glasses at the third blonde. He asks, “What is Easter?” The third blonde smiles confidently and looks St. Peter in the eyes, “I know what Easter is.” “Oh?” says St. Peter, incredulously. “Easter is the Christian holiday that coincides with the Jewish celebration of Passover. Jesus and his disciples were eating at the last supper and Jesus was later deceived and turned over to the Romans by one of his disciples. The Romans took him to be crucified and he was stabbed in the side, made to wear a crown of thorns, and was hung on a cross with nails through his hands. He was buried in a nearby cave which was sealed off by a large boulder.” St. Peter smiles broadly with delight. The third blonde continues, “Every year the boulder is moved aside so that Jesus can come out... and, if he sees his shadow, there will be six more weeks of winter.”

Blonde Airline Stewardess

An airline captain was breaking in a very pretty new blonde stewardess. The route they were flying had a stay-over in another city, so upon their arrival, the captain showed the stewardess the best place for airline personnel to eat, shop and stay overnight. The next morning as the pilot was preparing the crew for the day’s route, he noticed the new stewardess was missing. He knew which room she was in at the hotel and called her up wondering what happened to her. She answered the phone, sobbing, and said she couldn’t get out of her room. “You can’t get out of your room?” the captain asked, “Why not?” The stewardess replied: “There are only three doors in here,” she cried, “one is the bathroom, one is the closet, and one has a sign on it that says ‘Do Not Disturb!’”

The Magic Lamp

A blonde, a brunette and a redhead are stuck on an island. And for years and years they lived there, one day they find a magic lamp. They rub and rub and sure enough out comes a genie. The genie says, “Since I can only give out 3 wishes, you may each have one.” So the brunette goes first, “I have been stuck here for years, I miss my family and my husband and my life. I wish I was home.” And POOF she is gone. The redhead makes her wish, “This place stinks, I wish I was home with my family also.” And POOF she is gone. The blonde starts crying uncontrollably. The genie says to her, “My dear what is the matter?” The blonde replies, “I wish my friends were here.”

Tennis Ball

While out one morning in the park, a jogger found a brand new tennis ball, and seeing no one around it might belong to, he slipped it into the pocket of his shorts. Later, on his way home, he stopped at the pedestrian crossing, waiting for the lights to change. A blonde girl standing next to him eyed the large bulge in his shorts. “What’s that?” she asked, her eyes gleaming with lust. “Tennis ball,” came the breathless reply. “Oh,” said the blonde sympathetically, “that must be painful... I had tennis elbow once.”

Visiting Washington DC

A blonde is visiting Washington, DC. This is her first time to the city, so she wants to see the Capitol building. Unfortunately, she can’t find it, so she asks a police officer for directions. “Excuse me, officer,” the blonde says, “how do I get to the Capitol building?” The officer says, “Wait here at this bus stop for the number 54 bus. It’ll take you right there.” The blonde thanks the officer and he drives off. Three hours later the police officer comes back to the same area, and sure enough, the blonde is still waiting at the same bus stop. The officer gets out of his car and says, "Excuse me, but to get to the Capitol building, I said to wait here for the number 54 bus. That was three hours ago. Why are you still waiting?" The blonde says, "Don't worry, officer, it won't be long now. The 45th bus just went by!"

Swimming

There was a competition to swim from Santa Monica to Catalina doing only the breaststroke, and the three women who entered the race were a brunette, a redhead and a blonde. After approximately 14 hours, the brunette staggered up on the shore and was declared the fastest breaststroker. About 40 minutes later, the Redhead crawled up on the shore and was declared the second place finisher. Nearly 4 hours after that, the blonde finally came ashore and promptly collapsed in front of the worried onlookers. When the reporters asked why it took her so long to complete the race, she replied, "I don't want to sound like I'm a sore loser, but I think those two other girls were using their arms."

Horse Ride

A blonde decides to try horseback riding, even though she has had no lessons or prior experience. She mounts the horse unassisted and the horse immediately springs into motion. It gallops along at a steady and rhythmic pace, but the blonde begins to slip from the saddle. In terror, she grabs for the horse's mane, but cannot seem to get a firm grip. She tries to throw her arms around the horse's neck, but she slides down the side of the horse anyway. The horse gallops along, seemingly impervious to it's slipping rider. Finally, giving up her frail grip, she leaps away from the horse to try and throw herself to safety. Unfortunately, her foot has become entangled in the stirrup, she is now at the mercy of the horse's pounding hooves as her head is struck against the surface over and over. As her head is battered against the ground, she is mere moments away from unconsciousness when to her great fortuneThe Wal-Mart manager sees her and shuts the horse off.

Beach Humor

- * Strange, isn't it. All the potholders are in the kitchen, but the pots are at the beach.
- * Swimsuits don't look like they're made anymore—they look like they're grown in a petri dish.
- * I saw one girl in a swimsuit that was tighter than a piece of foil on a year-old stick of Juicy Fruit.
- * I'm getting ready for the beach. I'm lifting weights and jogging--so my heart can stand the shock of looking at all the new bikinis.
- * Beach fees have increased 10% over last year, the crowds have increased 20%, and my stomach has increased 30%.
- * I go to the beach to meet well-built women. Unfortunately, they go to the beach to meet well-built men.

SPECIAL LUNCH MENU
MONDAY – FRIDAY

* When I go to the beach, people always ask for my autograph. My belly is so big, they think I'm a baseball manager.

Amusement Park Humor

- * The last time I went to (Six Flags), I had so much fun I was sore for three days.
- * Amusement parks are mis-named. They should be called "Wait In Line" parks.
- * I love amusement parks. It's the only place you can lose your kids and make it look like an accident.
- * They say last year 20 million people went to (park). That must have been the day I was there.
- * I'm not riding anybody's rollercoaster - or any other vehicle I can't tell who's driving.
- * I love all the water rides where everybody gets soaking wet. On a hot day it's fun to walk around and try to figure out which folks got splashed and which ones just buy cheap anti-perspirant.
- * I like the water rides for two reasons: (1) they're refreshing; and (2) nobody will notice if I get scared and wet my pants.
- * Isn't it strange that when you're finally tall enough to ride all the rides at the amusement park, you have enough sense to not want to?
- * Roller coasters are like haunted houses. People always scream, then pretend they were scared
- * What adults like most about roller coasters is being able to sit down after standing in line for two hours.
- * One thing you have to say about amusement parks -- they're not cheap thrills.
- * Have you noticed how amusement parks aren't nearly as amusing when you run out of money?

* The key to having fun at an amusement park is to place bets on whether the kids will get sick on the rides or on the food.

Airline Humor

- * An airport -- that's where people go to find out how late their flight is going to be.
- * Never fly an airline whose motto is, "We'll get you there on time or die trying."
- * I don't fly well. I have a carry-on just for air sickness.
- * Something bothers me. If the airline you're flying goes bankrupt in mid-air, does the crew stick around until you land?
- * One airline guarantees not to lose your luggage. That's because the plane's so small you have sit on your suitcase. * With discount fares, you don't get first-run movies. You see things like "Leave It to Beaver" -- with Studebaker commercials.
- * I get nervous when they show movies on an airliner -- especially when the crew comes back to watch.
- * You know you're flying the friendly skies when you notice the happy face on your airsick bag.
- * I worry about mid-air collisions. Especially when I notice the movie I'm watching is on another plane. With all the discounted fares, the airlines are coming up with new ways to make money. For example, it now costs $13.50 for your kid to ride the baggage conveyor.

Spread the Stupidity

Only in Americado drugstores make the sick walk all the way to the back of the store to get their prescriptions while healthy people can buy cigarettes at the front.

Only in Americado people order double cheeseburgers, large fries, and a diet coke.

Only in Americado banks leave vault doors open and then chain the pens to the counters..

Only in Americado we leave cars worth thousands of dollars in the driveway and put our useless junk in the garage.

Only in Americado we buy hot dogs in packages of ten and buns in packages of eight..

Only in Americado they have drive-up ATM machines with Braille lettering.

EVER WONDER ...

Why the sun lightens our hair, but darkens our skin?

Why can't women put on mascara with their mouth closed?

Why don't you ever see the headline 'Psychic Wins Lottery'?

Why is 'abbreviated' such a long word?

Why is it that doctors call what they do 'practice'?

Why is lemon juice made with artificial flavor, and dishwashing liquid made with real lemons?

Why is the man who invests all your money called a broker?

Why is the time of day with the slowest traffic called rush hour?

Why isn't there mouse-flavored cat food?

Why didn't Noah swat those two mosquitoes?

Why do they sterilize the needle for lethal injections?

You know that indestructible black box that is used on airplanes? Why don't they make the whole plane out of that stuff?!

Why don't sheep shrink when it rains?

Why are they called apartments when they are all stuck together?

If con is the opposite of pro, is Congress the opposite of progress?

If flying is so safe, why do they call the airport the terminal?

Now that you've smiled at least once, it's your turn to spread the stupidity and send this to someone you want to bring a smile to (maybe even a chuckle)...in other words, send it to everyone. We all need to smile every once in a while. Spread the Stupidity!

Barbecue Humor

- * My barbecue this year really has a great charred, smokey taste. I'm using the wood from my deck that burned down last year.
- * Rare ... medium ... well done..... I've got all three types of burns on my hands from barbecuing this weekend.
- * The key to good barbecuing is having a sauce that can cover up your mistakes.

- * I love to barbecue. Last night I barbecued a chicken, a basting brush, and two Betty Crocker oven mittens.
- * I barbecued last weekend, but it wasn't such a big deal. Only two alarms.
- * I look at barbecuing as a challenge. Me, I want to char where no man has charred before!

Camping Humor -

To be a happy camper, remember:

A tuba placed on your picnic table will keep campsites on either side vacant.

A hot rock placed in your sleeping bag will keep your feet warm, but eating a hot enchilada works just as well and is less dangerous.

You can compress the diameter of your rolled-up sleeping bag by running over it with your car.

A two-man pup tent should not be used either by two men or a pup.

A potato baked in coals for an hour makes a good meal. One baked for three hours makes a good hockey puck.

In emergency situations, you can survive by shooting small game with a slingshot made from the elastic in your underwear.

A large carp can be used for a pillow.

You can get even with a bear who steals your food by going to his favorite stump and eating the ants.

The guitar of a noisy teenager makes excellent kindling.

You can duplicate the warmth of a down-filled bedroll by climbing into a garbage bag with two geese.

You'll never get lost if you remember that moss always grows on the north side of your compass.

Bear bells are convenient for campers in grizzly country. (The tricky part is getting them on the bears.)

I love camping. You haven't lived until you've cut your way out of a sleeping bag with a Swiss army knife.

An "RV" is a "home away from home." In other words, nobody is gonna make your bed for you.

Today's vacation question. When the signs in states parks say, "Don't feed the -animals," does that include the park rangers?

State parks—that's where there are more things that you can't do than you can do.

A state park is the only place where they have more rules than your parents.

Have you noticed that all the gift shops in state parks are basically the same—only the names on the souvenirs have changed?

There are so many relaxing things to do in the mountains: fishing in a mountain stream ... hiking up a mountain trail ... playing Scrabble with a mountain goat.....

Why would anybody want to go camping in the woods? Everything out there will either eat you, bite you, or give you a rash.

I enjoy communing with nature. I just don't like it when nature tries communing back.

I don't care for hiking. The longest hike I ever made was trying to find my car in a Wal-Mart parking lot.

ABC's Of Ex Girlfriends

A - is for Arteries. You know, the things that your ex-girlfriend ripped out because she really didn't care for you you twit she was only after your money and could have given a shit about you.

B- is for Bitter. Who, me?? No way. I really hope things between them do work out. I hope they get married and have 2 children that are little devils and her hips get huge and his eyebrows finally grow completely together and they get fat and old together and then DIE!!

C - is for Call ya later. She won't. She never has before.

D - is for Dumped. Does D need to be explained?

E - is for Eating like a pig. Remember when you took her out and she said "I'm not hungry" so you figured you could take her to a nice place because you were able to afford a nice meal at this fine restaurant. Then she ate more than your Uncle Roy (you remember Uncle Roy the one with the mustard stains on everything). So you flip the bill and are broke for the next two weeks and she wonders why you were unable to call her that week and go see movies.

F- is for Friends. That is what she just wants to be. As if you can even stand to look at her.

G- is for Gun. And yes there is a waiting period.

BY NIGHTWIRE

H - is for Horny. Remember when she looked nice and even had a personality? Well, you figure it out.

I- stands for I still hate her. Odds are I always will, unless she calls me and offers me favors.

J- stands for Jim. This is her new boyfriend. Doesn't Jim have a nice car ? Doesn't Jim have a good job? Why does Jim want to date her? I think Jim could do much better. I hate Jim. Jim is my mortal enemy.

K- stands for Kill. Self Explanatory

L- is for Love. It's a great euphoric feeling that exists between two people and is shared upon by both parties.

L- is also for Lunatic. Lunatics are crazy. Lunatics are the last people that actually believe in love.

M- stands for Mephistopheles. That is who she worked for.

N- stands for Necrophilia. She didn't move very much, did she?

O- is for On top. When on top she has another O word.

P-is for Pill. She said she was on it. She lied. She is now suing you for a few hundred bucks a month.

Q -is for Quitter. She couldn't last.

R - is for Rich little Bitch. She bought my love but I paid for it.

S- stands for Suffer. That's what she made me do.

T - is for torture. Torture is what she did. She tortured you with the truth. She also tortured you with lies.

U- is for Understatement. Saying you hate that bitch is an understatement.

V - is for Voluptuous. That is the primary reason you were dating her in the first place.

W - stands for Whine. She was a pro at this.

X - is for Xylophone. Because X is always for xylophone.

Y - stands for You suck! Remember when she yelled that at you.

Z - stands for ZIPPER. This is what you got your hair stuck in while trying to get dressed too quickly while she yelled "QUICK! They're home!"

. stands for period. Which is a couple of weeks late, because she lied to you about taking what P stands for. It also means you won't get any for a week.
